Methodology of the iCrag Covid-19 Survey

An eight-question questionnaire was prepared in consultation with Dr. Geertje Schuitema, an iCrag social scientist based in the School of Business at University College Dublin (UCD). The survey was approved for circulation by the Office of Research Ethics at UCD.

The English-language survey was created in Google Forms (Appendix A) and was posted online on April 23, 2020, for a nine-day period closing at noon GMT on May 2, 2020.

Because Google is not accessible in China where the pandemic began, a duplicate of the questionnaire, in English, was created through a Chinese survey website (wenjuan.com). A link to the online survey was shared with Chinese ore geologists with an invitation to complete the survey.

Members of iCrag emailed information about the survey to their contacts in the minerals sector with a request that they fill out the survey once and that they pass it on to their networks. Information about the survey was sent to the Irish Mining and Quarrying Society, Irish Association for Economic Geology, Society of Economic Geologists, Ore Deposits Hub, Society for Mining, Metallurgy & Exploration, International Association on the Genesis of Ore Deposits, Society for Geology Applied to Mineral Deposits, and the economic geology group of the Geological Society of Australia. These groups shared the information with members in various ways including mentioning it online, in member mailings, podcasts, and webinars. iCrag did not publicise the survey via social media in order to ensure, to the extent possible, that it would remain within the minerals sector.

All recipients received the first seven questions in the survey. If the response to Q.7, [“Has your employment status been changed due to Covid-19?”] indicated that they had already been made redundant or that their contract had not been extended or that they had received notice of termination, the survey ended. If the response to Q.7 indicated that they had not already lost their job, the survey continued to Q.8 [“To what extent are you concerned the Covid-19 crisis could end your employment during 2020?”].

A total of 1010 responses via Google forms plus 40 Chinese responses were received by the closing date. Of the 1050 responses, 1007 contained sufficient information to be analysed. A table with all the analysed responses is provided in Appendix B. Appendix C contains a list of the 55 countries mentioned in response to Q.1 [Country of current/most recent employment”].

Processing the data:

- All the responses were merged into a single Excel spreadsheet.
- All entries were checked for validity and blank responses were removed.
- Country names were standardised and a new column for “Continent” was added and completed based on the entry for “Country of current/most recent employment”.
- Question 4: Sector. Respondents were allowed to select multiple options (Mineral exploration; Mining; Minerals Research; Other) to describe the sector they worked in. This led to many different combinations and the responses were aggregated using this system:
 - Written responses under “Other”:
 - A new “Government” sector was created based on written responses.

- The “Other” sector then included responses such as environment, education, law, services, policy, engineering geology, petroleum, drilling, health and safety, IT, CSR, water.
- Where people listed multiple sectors:
 - If a person chose “Student” under Q.2 [“Current status”] and then listed more than one sector in addition to Minerals Research, e.g., Mineral Exploration or Mining and Minerals Research, they were moved to Minerals Research only.
 - If a student did not list Minerals Research, they were left in the category that they entered.
 - The 73 entries that listed both Mineral Exploration and Mining were divided between the two categories by listing every second one in each category. The list used for the distribution was sorted by Sector, then Employment category, then by date and time of response.
 - The 7 people who listed Mineral Exploration and Other were assigned to Mineral Exploration.
 - The 3 people who listed Mining and Other were assigned to Mining.
 - The 2 non-students who listed Mining and Minerals Research were assigned to Mining.
 - The 10 non-students who listed Mineral exploration and Mining and Minerals research were assigned alternately to the three categories.
 - The 14 non-students who listed Mineral exploration and Minerals research were assigned alternately to each category.
- Question 5: Primary focus of work/research. Respondents could choose one option from “Base Metals; Industrial Metals; Precious Metals; Other”. Where respondents provided details under “Other” the responses were classified as follows:
 - If they listed a commodity such as coal, critical minerals, uranium, potash, salt, construction materials, oil & gas, helium, they were listed as “Other”.
 - If the response indicated support services such as education, software, drilling, they were listed as “None listed” to indicate that they were not linked to a single commodity.
 - The 26 respondents who wrote “All” were assigned alternately to Base metals, Precious metals, and Other.
- Some data have been aggregated into larger categories in the summary graphs.

Questionnaire

Covid-19 and minerals sector

The Raw Materials group at the Irish Centre for Research in Applied Geosciences (iCRAG) is conducting a brief survey of members of the mineral exploration, mining, and minerals research communities to assess the immediate effects of the Covid-19 pandemic.

- We urge you to complete this survey, which should take about 3 minutes.
- Please pass the link on to others in the mineral exploration, mining, and minerals research sectors.
- Only complete the survey ONCE.
- The survey will close on May 1, 2020.
- We intend to make the results available in May 2020.

Survey Questions
